Subject: ipad email issue this is due to a sync issue, your user name on your laptop is "story" ;

to fix

On the ipad go to sys prefs > mail Accounts and check the names on the accounts here

It may be the mobile me sync of jeevacation1 to the ipad

If this is so you could just delete that account from the ipad and only leave the gmail account or if you see in the Name field story and not JE then you could fix it there

During the next sync to your laptop check the prefs inside itunes under the info tab you may choose to only sync your jeevacation@gmail.com and not our mobile mobile me account if that was the issue

If you are not syncing to your laptop at this time an alternate solution would be to delete the mail accounts on the ipad and just re add the gmail account making sure your name is < Jeffrey Epstein > and not story

-----

A few updates from Apple have been released since i saw you last and running them first is a good idea but only if someone can spend at least 1 hour reviewing the upgrade process for you.

Using the ipad or notebook during this process is not advised
