Good Afternoon,

We had a medical issue with Thunder (Zorro horse) late last night. He had to be taken to the vet with stomach issues, possible stomach ulcers, he will not eat or drink, but has been pumped with "oil" which we are hoping will get things moving. He has not improved overnight, but is standing up, so he can be moved around, which needs to happen every hour

Wendy has taken him to her house as she is better equipped to handle any issues having a stall attached to her house with lights and only a 5 minutes drive for the vet. She will continue to monitor him, but there may need to be a "call" made about putting him down - are you OK with this call coming from Wendy given she is on site? Please advise

Will keep you posted on any developments

Warmest regards

Karen
