Ken said absolutely no statement just to lay very low and quiet if you have any questions you can ask me I'll be happy to run them by him and or Sean but we all think the same...absolutely nothing he also said this for the moment I'm very NYC centric and let's keep it that way. I am sorry this is happening to you but you should know who your friends are the rest are a piece of crap=please don't fall into the bullshit again of all these people that wanted your help and who you have helped they are not there for you and never were just wanted something...know I always have your best interest at hand even if you don't listen...=/o:p>

Stop listening to the last person you spoke to use your instincts they are always right...

I also think you need to start thinking about a project you can take on that will both make you feel good and that will do good for others...this will make people talk about you but in a positive way not yet because you are still a target for the press and not many big institutions will take your money at the moment but in time...everything in time.

I know you don't believe this but I really do love you like a brother....and feel so sad this is happening. Just remember who your real friends are and those are the people you should be concerned with.

Around all weekend at home [REDACTED] =ell use it

xoxo
