Subject: Marie Ramsay's abusive discretion to Crissia

Hi Capt. James,

Crissia and I would like to report Marie Ramsay, new Head Stewardess of M/Y Te Manu for intentional locking their cabin (crew port forward) for Crissia not to get in.

We tried to knock and open it with the spare key but no response and the other key was in the other side so it can't be open.

This happened after crew's drop off dinner where Marie was already unconsciously influenced by alcohol.

During that dinner as well, Marie started to ask weird questions to Crissia that made Crissia to keep her silence to her.

Marie didn't manage to finish the dinner as she was hardly can walk or even to be awake on the dinner table.

Crissia ended up sleeping in the crew mess unhappy.

Photo attached as proof in this email witnessed by the following crew who passed at crew mess 2:30am
23/10/16:

Richard Henderson (Chef), he helped Crissia to knock loudly at their door as we tried to stop him in respect to the other crew sleeping.

Keiran Buzza (2nd Engineer) and Jordan Bennett (stewardess) as they just arrived from ashore.

We would like to let you know that we want to raise this issue to the management.

As Crissia still remembers the harassment of Jo Johannesen and Debbie Donaghey (former Chief Engineer / 2nd stewardess) that left her an emotional trauma,

We can see Marie's characteristics similar to Debbie when they were influenced by alcohol.

This may be the 1st foul to Marie after 6 weeks of just joining the boat but I hope we can follow the rules in regards of the Tolerance of Alcohol to the fact that she is the officer in charge to its inventory and to its dissemination.

Thank you.

Respectfully yours,
Justine and Crissia Galgana
