Hi Myla,

I hope you had a safe flight & didn't have any problems with immigration at FLL

We didn't get a chance to discuss the new Ch Stew position again before your left but I will need to reply to the Captain's email tomorrow so chat with Sunami & let me know your thoughts

The Capt has been holding the Ch Stew position open based on my recommendations but I will need to forward our CV to him for review

I think it will be a great opportunity as we will finally be based in Ft. Lauderdale & able to spend more time with our families - Once we get established onboard, I will try to bring him in whenever possible (part time / full time)

I hope all is going well on your charter. Do you know if the person you had in mind for the Ch Stew position is still interested? If she is then perhaps you could send me her email. If you can have her send it to you first and then forward it so we do not have a commotion on this end if the word gets out and we end up with lots of CV's for a job that is not yet on the market.
