Hi Myla,
I found one I had from before and seems more fun and easier for my friends to get the costumes and for you to do the decorations.
The theme is "Class of '54" so it is the 50's in America....
What do you think?

I just received two games of How to Host a Murder and the themes are English Castle during the 30th and the other one is during the Roman Empire in a Patrician house with Poets, senators etc. Which theme are you more comfortable with in regards to create the atmosphere and of course the special dinner?
I will love to hear your comments plus more activities on board.
My friends that are coming love hiking, water sports, scuba diving, snorkeling, culture and fun experiences around the town... party monsters also ready for a Karaoke night...and more fun at Te Manu!!!
Best
Patricia
