Good day Mr Kahn,

It's been a while since I talked to you but myla has been keeping me updated.

I applied for a new passport which I received yesterday. My old one was still good for a year but I thought a new one would avoid any complications with renewal at a possibly inconvenient time later.

I have a flight tentatively reserved which would get me into Ft Lauderdale on Saturday, July 5. I would then stay (and recover) with friends there Sunday July 6 and was hoping to open a bank account there (which I have done there before) on Monday July 7. I know for sure I cannot do this in St Thomas as I tried at a previous time.

This would leave me open to travel to STT July 8. I have not booked anything from Florida to St Thomas as this would best be done from the US.

I would have to confirm the flight tomorrow as it is reserved 24 hours.

I hope this looks ok to you.

Regards,
Phil Baker
