Jeffrey,

I spoke with Cheri Boynes last night and asked her about having the General II go over to PR to pick up the trees. She said that the General II is too small to make the trip to PR (it is a much longer run and the waters are very rough between STT and PR). Additionally, all the trees will not fit on the deck of the General II. She said that the Commander can go over and get all the trees (about 100??) and deliver them to STT. On STT, they will transfer the trees from the Commander to the General II. They will have the General II run back and forth between STT and LSJ until all the trees are delivered.
