Jeffrey and Darren,

I spoke to Howard regarding the price of the D model, he informed me that Keystone has presented a price with our options close to 13 Million. This price is based on a carbon copy of our contract for our current C++ helicopter.

Howard knows this is unacceptable to us, he is in the process of reducing this price before it is offered to us in writing. He told me the major dollar items are the additional training slots for pilot and mechanic, plus custom arm rest, Eric Roth to complete the interior, extra year of warranty, audio switching in cabin entertainment, plus 10 extra hours of charter in S76 with AAG and WiFi installation. He told me these items alone total over 300k+ additional to their offer of 12,120,000.00 for the D model.

personally, I don't think Sikorsky can offer us a helicopter equipped the way our current C++ is being delivered for same money at this date. Keystone is comfortable completing their standard VIP interior that offers minimal VIP comforts they offer in their 3 option only VIP interior package brochure.

thanks,
Larry
