you walk in the kitchen eating, not once asking , if i would like a bite, like something or in fact paying any attention to anything but what you are doing. you have yet to do one facial thought i have asked more than five times. you bitch about [REDACTED]. like yesterday, a day I really looked forward to., the only negative was you and your attitude. everyone else tried their hardest to make my first trip back pleasant ,, you thought only of yourself. I can't be any clearer

You are right about the first part;
The email wasn't about love, it was about trust. How can I not be insecure in this unusual relationship if you don't do something to show me I don't need to be; lately I just watched you continue with the kind words and sweet gestures towards these girls and a cold shoulder towards me . I need you to keep letting me and these girls see the the differences and respect the boundaries between our relationship and yours. To me the email was a perfect way to do it but if you have a better idea I'd love to hear about it. I recognize that, despite the fact you don't understand it and you find it petty, you did what I needed from you. I can't tell you how much I appreciate it and I'd like to understand what you need from me and do it.

now ask yourself , did i make jeffreys day, either yesterday or today. more pleasant or less so/ did I add to his stress or help relieve some. ? did I make his life easier or more difficult. ? did I make him prove he loves me, by asking him to do things he detests doing ? Am I afraid others will treat him better than I , and he can't see their true colors. ? Am I afraid he is going to leave me for someone else that treats him the way he has asked to be treated/

No. I know I sound suspicious but you doing this means a lot to me so I want to have no excuse not to believe it and I appreciate you being patient.

I never got the snapshot of the first email you sent.

You told me at 1.30pm how she responded but it seems she only sent it at 2.27pm which means you 'predicted' the future :)
