I believe I have a great idea . I think you can use this in a way that would make money, get you involved with interesting people, have you work on your traslational cognitive stuff and really make a difference, If that were not enough, you would also have fun - first you will have to change the categories, into scientific sounding titles.. no one would want to be labled a " reactor ". they will all need to be positive sounding. the Vertically integrated brain, is a nice pun

Hi Jeffrey...

I'm sure you won't like some of this, and I'll be interested to learn why!!!

See you soon.
