I fueled the Gulfstream just now, the number two battery is dead, I could not close cabin door, the battery is only 30 days old, it is not holding a charge,, new battery will arrive at 9am and should be ready by 10am to depart, .
We have the battery on charge at this time, if the battery holds a charge by 10pm tonight General Dynamics will release and install the battery, this is my best case scenario for now, I will install new battery after our flight to STT if I can install our old battery.
I will update you shortly.
