I reviewed the equipment portion of the elect.contract you questioned as well as the l&m

The switch gear is direct from the Mfg.outlet (as spaced month delivery) and is the second half of the already installed panels as part of the total design. we pay the invoice direct to the mfg.

I reviewed the material list and find them in line with the plans and specs.

I went over the labor with our super's and believe the cost to be in line

switch gear on island	$374,104
materials	86,703
labor	129,052
total	$589,859
budget	$633,230

Darren has reviewed contract
