I am faxing you a list of scholars that have been funded by friends.. they have all proposed theories that might change their field, they have been recognized for unique thinking, that have already revolutionized thier respective fields. there is quite an easy consensus, that their works are pioneering,,Their lectures are standing rrom only whever they appear.. my guess is that the color of mackerel would not qulaify they are an example of scholars, that had they been in any of the countries that had applications. there would be little doubt , should they be the one to " rescue".. In fact that there is so tooing and froing over should this be the one,, almost makes it clear that it shouldn't
