sultan,, your guy is really good..I appreciate the candor. As this will make a lot of money , you should decide how i should be compensated. I trust you. due to my current condition I could not personally take an ownership interest. Otherwise I would in a heartbeat. I think that Hyatt is the perfect answer to MGM. not Barrack. Your people should talk to Pritsker. As you know RBS is one of the major lenders, that also shouldn't be a problem. Bank of America is trickier.. I think an exploding preferred with a decent dividend would make sense.ic. exploding warrants. .. They could put up 1billion. maybe use their balance sheet for other types of guarantees. he is sitting on mounds of cash.They have operational experience. travel - cruise - food and beverage. They are already Nevada Gaming approved. It must be quiet.
