Scott and Jermaine both have tried to fix Citrix remotely and cannot do it. Scott is speaking to Rich Barnett on it to see if he can guise him through to bring us back up. BUT, if Rich Barnett and Scott can't get it up and running he is suggesting he get a PC tech in to help (and he says he knows several very good ones in NY) so he can walk through it with them over the phone... or Scott could come back and put his own 2 hands on the system. He knows he has a huge list to take care of for you on the island and needs your input on what to do.
