\ I am not attempting to justify my past behavior. I have paid a price, I have served a jail term, and I continue to pay a heavy price as do friends and acquaintatnces of mine who have no invovlement in my story. It is important to point out what is really going on here. THE lawyers that represented many of these girls are currently in jail. They maliciously and malevalently exaggerated the actions and behaviors, and created false complaints in an attempt to get money. Scott Rothstein manufactured , fabricated , and sold wild allegations about my behavior and past. Brad Edwards was a partner in Rothsteinds firma as was.....Many if not all of the News papaers involved in printing many of these wild and salacious stories are offereing money in return for a quote. I believe that the adage of Why let a good story get in the way of the truth applies in this case
