Here's the travel plan. Karen's mom died during the holidays last year and she did not want to be home over Christmas. At the last minute she began to talk about going on a cruise. I told the travel agent I did not care where we went or what we did. We just had to 1) be on a boat Dec 24th & 25th , not in America, 2) have a suite big enough for 3. Consequently, we are on the Celebrity Solstice for 8 nights. We dock in St. Thomas at Charlotte Amalie Wed at 8:00 am and depart at 5:00 pm. We then sail to St. Maarten and the map makes it look like we'll motor right past your island on the way. If you are on the island I would love to see you. John would especially like to meet you. If not, we have never been to this part of the Caribbean, so we'll have plenty to see and do in a day ashore.
