Jeffrey,.

I cannot get hanger in any NY area airport, I've been on the standby list since Monday at Atlantic in TEB, but doesn't look promising. its to early to tell wind impact on NY, but I think I should at least take the plane to Stewart NY airport (40 miles NW of NYC) for safe keeping, it seams far enough inland to avoid wind damage to aircraft, and we could use AAG S76 to pick you up for our next departure, since AAG is based 15 miles away in POU Poukipsee NY, I am storing our S76 in Poukipsee also,.

I'm most concerned about flight controls hitting their stops, and damaging my control lock in the wind,if we decided to park at JFK, it seams JFK is in direct line of the storm at this time,. I plan to arrive in Newark at 10pm and would move the plane Saturday morning, if you agree?

Newark / Teterboro forecasting 60 mph wind for Sunday,.

JFK 49 mph + wind

Stewart Newburg NY 37 mph wind,.

your thoughts?
