brice and i went through it,, the lights are not going to work as placed, i want him to think about refinishing in dark blue, , adding a light or two. its a real issue, im not sure they are familiar with such a deep pool. . or did they not add the right lights afer we extended,, this fix will not be easy,, this is not my problem,, Rex said the color would be picked up by the tile . it is not. it is a big bath tub.. the diamond brite blue will have to be added as a plaster, but the lights are an entirely different issue and i have no idea how to fix, maybe a different fixture that allows light to be thrown sideways ,
