

To: William R. Scherer [REDACTED]
From: Jeffrey Epstein
Sent: Tue 6/7/2011 6:21:48 PM

From: T Waitt
Date: Thu, 23 Jul 2009 14:33:53 -0700
To: [REDACTED]
Subject: Re: Clockwork

We'll talk when I get a good connection. Phone service unreliable here on the boat in galapagos.

My initial take away is it just "feels like a dirty business" or scam. Could very well be totally legit and a great investment, but it's just doesn't feel clean. First of all you start with a sexual harrasment case that could be set-up, or blackmail. Then you throw in a scumbag lawyer, and then you try and pay it off early to get around a court order. Mix in an off shore entity in the caymans, and you have something that just feels highly dodgy.

There might be people out there who buy into it, but I'd run away as would most sophisticated investors.

My advice to you although you might not want to hear it, is with all the clouds surrounding you, I'd look for something squeaky clean, and while this might be legit, it just feels dirty.
TW

--

The information contained in this communication is confidential, may be attorney-client privileged, may constitute inside information, and is intended only for the use of the addressee. It is the property of Jeffrey Epstein
Unauthorized use, disclosure or copying of this communication or any part thereof is strictly prohibited and may be unlawful. If you have received this communication in error, please notify us immediately by return e-mail or by e-mail to jeevacation@gmail.com, and destroy this communication and all copies thereof, including all attachments. copyright -all rights reserved