I think you should send the following.. Jesse, I'm somewhat surprised, as I thought you and Jeffrey were one-time buds. Jeffrey is not one of the top five wealthiest people in New York, but I would suggest that there is a broad consensus that he is one of the smartest. He plead guilty to a crime many years ago and paid a large price for his mistake. Lets not forget that for decades, he has used both his extraordinary intellect and his wealth to support many charitable causes , benefiting those much less fortunatet than he,. The quaker inspired method of shunning and shaming , was replaced hundreds of years ago , by the more benevolent practice of forgiveness . His friends were asked for theirs ,and he received it.
