yesterday the judge in the apple patent case tossed the jury verdict,, fro 650 million to zero.. nathans co value, i would suggget was just decimated , first nuclear now patents.. It said the infringement had to be willfull. the steps had to be similar testing had to be done, even if it were offered to the customer, it would not be hold, as it is not forced on the person.. It is a crazy , co friendly decison , but puts patent litigation back twenty years.
