hi jeffrey,

..i wanted to e-mail you yesterday but the internet connection didn't work on the island. daphne took pictures so i guess you saw already what i have done. today i finished the statues..i think they look pretty good, then i started painting the ceiling.. columns at the five palms building are done too. i finished also the columns at the flag pool cabana..it looks good but i think the problem in that room comes from that gray color of the rug and the orange color of the couch..., in the painting its a different orange. these two colors, gray and that orange are not in the painting and because they are covering such a big area in the room they kill somehow the painting... maybe thats why too the room it looks like it doesnt have balance..

anyway, tomorrow i will continue with the ceiling. i dont have camera with me so i cant take pictures, i think i forgot it in ny, but probably daphne is going to take pictures at the end of the day and she will send them to you.

thank you,
ion
