i just spoke with craig and asked him if he communicated everything we spoke about yesterday for 4 hours on how we were going to get Zorro bids and get more information about [REDACTED] incomplete quotes.

craig said no i did not say anything. i proceeded to call wendy and asked her is she called any landscaping companies yet to test prices on aspens bid - she said no.

i then did a conference call with wendy and craig and craig changes his story to [REDACTED] may have heard a lot as he was in the same room as we spoke. seems very strange that aspen knew our game plan that we were going to bid materials from other nurseries.

jeffrey i want to help you get the best bids and prices on everything however i am tired of dealing with all the games, manipulation, untruths and childish behavior of [REDACTED] and now craig. i thought [REDACTED] email was extremely disrespectful to you and we would not be going thru this exercise if he gave you complete information and there was no suspicion of him stealing craig who claimed he waited all week to review zorro bids did not offer one useful piece of information yesterday on how to save you money i think craig is useless and i question who his allegiance is to.....
