To: ███████████████████████ ; jeffrey Epstein[jeevacation@gmail.com]
From: Richard Barnett
Sent: Thur 5/31/2012 3:25:56 PM
Subject: RE: stove delivery

Hi ███ I found a very cheap company from queens Russian Guys For $450.00 They are called Moving your way I have the stove scheduled for pickup 3:30 Wed June 6th going to ███ in NJ. phone# for mover is █████████ . Rich B.

Subject: Fwd: stove delivery
From: ████████████████
Date: Thu, 31 May 2012 10:45:11 -0400
To: ████████████████

FYI..

Begin forwarded message:

From: ████ <██████████████>
Date: May 31, 2012 10:40:53 AM EDT
To ████████████████
Subject: stove delivery

Just spoke to JE and he said I should let you know when would be a good time to deliver. If they can deliver on a weekend (as long as it's not more expensive) then that would be best :) This way I can make sure I am there to receive it. If not, I can ask ████ to run home to accept the delivery.
Thank you so so so so much :)

-----Original Message-----
From: ████
Sent: Thursday, May 31, 2012 10:08 AM
To: ████████████████ Subject: RE:

Hi ████...
Sorry for the delay! My email was not coming through on my bb (no wonder it was a quiet evening!) so just catching up.
Is delivery really expensive? I spoke to Rich yesterday and he said you received quotes as high as $4,000?!?!
If it's not too expensive then we could have it delivered and put in the garage?

Please let me know whatever is easiest and cheapest for you.
Best,

██

-----Original Message-----
From: ████████ [mailto: ████████]
Sent: Wednesday, May 30, 2012 7:31 PM
To: ██ Subject:

Hey ██ . Just checking in about delivering your new stove. Are you ready for it, or if not do we just deliver and put in your garage?