Subject: An invitation to Best of All Worlds

Something special is about to launch. Relevance, trust, and meaning are soon to return online.

Best of All Worlds is an innovative, private community for trusted and relevant social discovery of interesting people, common passions, and compelling ideas for tomorrow, not yesterday.

Louise and I hope that you'll join us prior to launch by preregistering, which takes just a couple of minutes. Help us bring clarity and perspective to the Internet.

As a prelaunch member, your feedback and suggestions will always be especially valuable. You can also invite select friends to preregister. We'd like your friends and colleagues to be our trusted members.

Time for relevance.
