Good afternoon sir hope all is well . On friday miself and Daphne sent all pricing info to Rich and I also sent it to Brice. I think the Buck steel people are better, they offer all the roll up doors and personel doors and also installation. Esco Puerto Rico doesnt do doors or cannot recomend installers if something was wrong with building there might be support issues . The Buck salesman said once we choose a building the most important thing is to fabricate footings according to blueprints so installation is a simple bolt on process. A surveyor will have to come for footing measurements, maybe Shane so when building arrives we can erect quickly.

Thankyou
Respectfully
Carlos
