Jeffrey,

pre_buy down time estimate is 18 working days,.

In my pre-buy negotiations with Gulfstream, I was able to remove the $35,000 cost for interior removal if regards to below floor inspection, this does not apply unless a discrepancy is found during below floor inspection, page 3 item #4 on General Dynamics prebuy quote ,.

Attached is General Dynamic's quote for my custom pre-buy inspection. general terms of my prebuy originally started with only 33 items that are inserted in Schedule "E" in the contract. as you see in Gulfstream's quote attached, it has grown to 110 due cards, since certain items involve the addition of other cards, Dennis is aware, such as one items call Avionics Hot cockpit check is actually 46 pages of due card as functional cockpit checks.

break down:

$13,000.00 Aircraft records and log book research

$ 900.00 APU Borescope

$14,500.00 Engine inspection, Runs and Borescope

$39,560.00 CMP cards, to include, Wing internal, below floor, FS85 Popping fuselage, Elevator and Rudder, remove leading edges of both wings,.

$ 5,500.00 Test flight with Gulfstream Test Pilots (this item will have additional billing for Pilot expense, hotel, food, etc.

Total pre-buy $73,460.00

is this approved?

thank you,
Larry
