Jeffrey,

Well, I had my consultation with the oral surgeon, and his treatment plan (including ten implants) will cost $27,000...I can send a copy by fax if you wish.

I have already received $14,000, which means I'm short of $13,000, although I got $800 for a piece in Playboy and $200 for a blog in TruthDig -- about the importance of flossing -- so I only need $12,000 more.

You're one of the four individuals who were particularly generous, so I'm asking each of you for $3,000 or a portion of that. If you'd prefer, we could consider it a loan, and I could pay it back on the installment plan.

Below is the link to an interview published a couple of days ago.

Enjoy,

pk
