Hi Jeffrey,

I think reputation worked for the national but not the local at all. I'll let you know what they say after I call them today.

Hi Jeffrey and Rich,

Summary of my work for the last month: Jan 15 - Feb 15:

- created a new international website. Fully optimized.
- published 5 press articles
- edited 11 articles for Reputation.

- updated 7 websites with 14 more pages of content in total.
- updated google's search optimization for all 8 websites.
- general correspondence and monitoring of Reputation's work.

Results:

national: 1 negative listing in 3rd place.

local: 3 negative listings: 4th, 5th, 6th.

I've seen no improvement in the local results in the last month. In fact, it's worse in the last week. I'm doing everything I can to boost the websites but the local press easily dominates.

Moving forward:

I'm finishing up with content for the forum that Jeffrey sent me. After that, I don't think it makes sense for me to continue as is. The progress on the national front is good. But not the local.

So,

1. I either stop entirely.
2. Or continue to boost all websites regularly at 1/2 salary--concentrating on directory listings. Press releases are expensive.
3. Supplement the above with a proposal that I have to present on deciphering signal cell intelligence.

Thank you for your thoughts,
