1. Bill was fun/ 2 I am aware of his strong desire to get money from others for his polio initiative, 3 we discussed an approach that would include giving people something in exchange for the ask 4, estate tax savings. 5 participation with bill in a new initiative, or even the chance to invest alongside in the future? 6 little hand holding required, is a necessary component of this, 7. I would suggest that the gates foundation is unique, in many ways, and to accomplish truly great things, should be structured in keeping with its uniqueness and not simply mirror the university development office, 8 I am happy to help if i can, bloomberg made a point that his foundation is run with only 9 people and he believes is as effective. 9. helping people think through their wills and estates. would be welcomed by many, even those that refuse to show for the pledge events or take calls knowing they are going to be asked for money, others use their wives as excuses why they can't participate now. etc. 10 . we could definitely structure things so that instead of the us gvt getting 100 billion dollars in estate taxes it would go to the foundation. this is easy, most people would prefer it, if they knew how to accomplish it, Terje will help with pakistan, and nigeria, you guys should be specific about what you want. very specific.
