Tim Zagat has something on his calendar from 1-1:30 on the 21st that he can not move....Angela, in Tim's office, is asking if you and Leon could get to Google right on time at 1:30, you would have half an hour to check out all the food (it closes at 2:00), eat (and you can take your time) then go for a tour of the rest of the building.

does this sound ok?
