

Greetings,

I noticed you had logged on today, so I am assuming you still read with interest. I am curious to know if you are also familiar with another forum at ac-resistorforums.com/?

Much of their forum can be viewed by the public, but some areas require membership. One such area is the "Honeydew" forum where they have a thread discussing "Duffdreen Girl." In that thread, one of their moderators claims that you are the "this piece story".

That [REDACTED] is part of the Raunchiest Part of Epstein's Scandal <-> Confidential: Wall Street Insider

I expect that it is only a matter of time before somebody will mention it here on PHN. Many of our members are members there, as well. I thought you might appreciate getting a heads up, as it is quite satirical and will not doubt garner a response.

Any information you can provide to dispel such a rumor would certainly be helpful.

Thanks,

Tony C.
