My biggest failure - gymnastic I lost competition from witch I could get to be chosen to play for our country, but I learned from this that no meter what it was important for me to do it I found out of how far I could go in this, and this was important to me, it is also was my biggest achievement I went until the end even I failed

What I'm afraid of - Love, its a very strong powerful feeling you can get lost in it, you are helpless, but it the best feeling it gives you happiness it makes you fly away, we can't live without love it's what we live for its the best feeling, it can take and give you so much!

My life experience: I been modeling for 7 years, I started when I was 18 it helped me to grow up very fast, to be responsible, to be openminded, it's changed my life, because of traveling I can see the difference of how people live, culture, and I realized that everything is possible in this life it's all depends on you on how far you want to go, everything in your hands
