Dear Courserians,

We hope your 2013 is off to a phenomenal start! We have loads of new courses rolling out this month and even more in February. Go ahead and make a list of your learning goals and share them with your friends; you might be surprised by who else you'll find enrolled in your classes!

We are also very grateful and thrilled to have been nominated for two Crunchie Awards: Best Education Startup and Best New Startup. Please take a moment and vote for us. Voting closes tonight! Thank you so much for your support.

Happy Learning!

News and Updates

Help us win a 2012 Crunchies Award for Best Education Startup and Best New Startup! Thank you for your support!

• We recently announced Signature Track, a new option that will give students in select classes the opportunity to earn a Verified Certificate for completing their Coursera course. Signature Track securely links your coursework to your identity, allowing you to confidently show the world what you've achieved on Coursera. Find out more here.

• Create a list of 2013 learning goals and share them with your friends and family!

• Over 50 courses will be concurrently running on Coursera on Monday. This is the largest number of courses we've ever had running, and we'll continue to add more throughout the year!
