Subject: David's upcoming NYC trip

Hi, [REDACTED]

This email adds some interesting information to the prior communications of this week.

I'll be in NYC from late Jan. 22 until Jan. 29. I'm busy -- for my mom's wedding! -- Saturday night the 26th and (probably) all day the 27th. I'd love to see Jeffrey while I'm in town.

Note: I have been following developments in the Open Science movement (e.g. opensciencesummit.com conferences in 2012 and 2011) and other things that might be fun and rewarding to discuss.

Note: My brother Benjamin and his family, including his thoughtful and kind older son [REDACTED], a high school senior, are going to be in NYC at the same time. I think Jeffrey and [REDACTED] might enjoy meeting one another. [REDACTED] completed the advanced calculus curriculum at his school in 9th grade and is somewhere between one in 10,000 and one in a million in terms of math talent. He's probably much nicer than Ben or I were at his age (17.8 years).

Best,
David

[REDACTED] is still my mobile

PS My email address in your email address software is correct but the label, associating me with Central Institute of Deaf, is out of date. I haven't been associated with CID since 1997.
