Glad to hear from you. It is also good to hear that campaign organization is coming together well.

I understand fully about the importance of some of the issues you referenced with respect to decisions around existing coalitions and political parties. It is a very important set of discussions to be had soon. I am available for most of the week next week to discuss via Skype as you had suggested. I believe that the time difference between Boston and Male is ten (10) Hours (The current time here Tonight on Friday Evening, 10:00 PM EST corresponds to Tomorrow, Saturday Morning, 8:00 AM) which is pretty manageable. I usually work late so I am also fine being on the evening end of that time difference when we talk. Please check with your team and let me know a few days / times that will work for you and we can coordinate from there.

Between now and then, one of the most important things that we can get accomplished for you and your campaign is the compiling of the list of All Voters who voted in the first 2008 Presidential Election. What we need is a comprehensive list of all the Voters who Voted in that election and a way (preferably a Phone Number) to be able to contact those voters. Once this outreach list is compiled we can discuss the next steps around what needs to be done with it but it is a critical set of information that needs to be pulled together if it is not already readily available.

Once again, Happy New Year to you, your family, and your team. I look forward to talking with you at some point in the next week or two.

McGee

Dear Jim,

Wishing you and family best wishes for the new year. I will be returning home this evening after spending a few days in Malaysia on a semi official visit.

We are currently identifying people who can effectively perform the functions you have outlined. In addition to Shafeeu, we now have others in the organizing committee who will be working together to develop the structures you have suggested. Next week we should be able to come back to you with further information.

We have a couple of key issues we need to resolve like possibilities for coalition before the elections, it's merits and risks. Similarly assess the challenges in forging ahead without the support of currently major political parties in my existing coalition. This discussion would be best held over a Skype session. We can schedule this when its convenient for you. I will ask Shafeeu to coordinate the time.

Other than that the information and questions you sent have initiated more excitement among the party colleagues.

Thanks and look forward to talk to have a more detailed discussion shortly.

Best regards,

Waheed

Hello President Waheed:

Now that the Holidays are wrapping up and the New Year is almost upon us, I thought I would drop you a quick follow up note to see how things were coming together with the campaign as well as the overall development of your campaign organization.

I am sure that you are very busy but when you have a moment please let us know how things are coming together and when you think would be a good time to discuss the next steps in the overall development process for your campaign.

Until then, I want to wish you a Happy and Prosperous New Year!

Jim McGee
