Subject: Tim Zagat

Tim Zagat is at a Conference at Google in CA and hard to reach...he does have his cell with him and you can try him, but you may or may not reach him...Tim got on the phone and relayed to me that David Boulee is fantastic and does incredible food, but the price is really high for a small party...$10,000 to get him here and Tim thinks it is not worthwhile to do for a small party (he says you told him 5-10 pp) Tim says there are several very good Italian restaurants right around the house and you could order from them..the one he suggested Caravaccio...Tim will be back in NY next week and says you can discuss more then (Tuesday)
