

To: Jeffrey Epstein[jeevacation@gmail.com]
From: Peggy Siegal
Sent: Wed 1/2/2013 3:18:57 PM
Subject: Please read this.

Austin says he will help me by sending his business manager into Bryan's office next week say he wants to invest in the company and own a part of it.

The biggest shock is that Bryan told his computer guy to set up a separate account for Darin...thinking he can "manage" two competing companies...by telling me "you are not interested in the independant films". It gets sicker everyday.

I will calmly speak to Bryan when I get back...the new girl I hired is sensational....and I really think it's time to get rid of Bryan.

From Darin..
See below. I think my emails are going into your junk folder.

Sent from my rotary phone

Begin forwarded message:

From: Darin Pfeiffer [REDACTED]
Date: December 31, 2012, 1:50:19 PM PST
To: "[REDACTED]" [REDACTED]
Subject: call me if you can

[REDACTED]

I just spoke to Scott Garber. I explained to him and also to Andres (I left him a voicemail) that I meant no harm. I thought it was completely normal to send out an email saying that I'm moving on. People do it all of the time when they leave a business. I even purposely kept the email vague (or so I thought). I had set it up before I left the company but was so crazed it never went out. Then I was in the midwest with my family and didn't have proper email signal. So I finally sent it out when I got to LA - honestly not thinking twice about it. I didn't even realize what email address it was coming from. I even copied you on the email when it went out. Did you not get it? CHeck your junk mail. I sent it to the STUDIO and PR lists. So you can easily access who it went to. I no longer have access to those lists, as it was sent out via bonex, so it's not in my sent folder. And - again - if the database password has changed I do not have access to them even if I tried.

I do not use the [REDACTED] address anymore and I've told Andres to turn it off and to change the database password so there are no further questions. I want this all to be clean. I've deleted the peggy siegal email account from my ipod and ipad so that I don't accidentally email from that account.

I have sent many emails to people explaining that I don't want to step on your toes. I can forward you those so you can see for yourself. I've also ignored emails from people trying to get further information. I also sent emails to people making sure they have Andres and Marisa's email addresses now that I'm not there.

-----
Darin Pfeiffer
[REDACTED]

[REDACTED]
Peggy Siegal Company
[REDACTED]