The conference will be held October 22–24 at our headquarters in Champaign, Illinois, USA.

WHAT TO EXPECT

Interact with the creators of Wolfram technologies. Hear directly from developers about recent advancements that will save you time, money, and effort.

Participate in intensive pre-conference training and hands-on instruction for implementing these new capabilities in your organization.

Talk shop with people who get it. Connect with your colleagues and Wolfram staff in topic-based "Meet-Ups", networking events, and roundtable discussions.

A sample of topics covered:

- Cloud development
- Computational finance
- Connected devices
- Data science
- Educational technology
- Interactive media
- Social media analysis
- System modeling and simulation
- Visualization

Remember, Early Bird pricing ends Friday, August 15. Make the Wolfram Technology Conference an even better value by registering today.
