We love the rustic look for its raw beauty. It's easygoing, even timeless. But as lovers of all things modern, we decided to play around a bit, to see if rustic décor could be firmly planted into the modern lifestyle. And the results? We'd say we were wildly successful. Here's how to achieve this look in your own home: Start with statement pieces that combine rustic wood and steel elements, ideally in striking modern shapes. Then, focus on accent pieces that have an organic, natural feel. Lastly, add ambient lighting into the mix, and watch the room come alive.
