Nothing has been ordered per se in terms of spare parts

A list was made of what needs to be shipped with the vehicles. That is the list we are adding to. Manuals have been on that list from the start

The vehicles are almost ready to ship and we are getting the final items on the list so that it all can be shipped together.

I have been aware of the need for manuals from the start. That's why I confirmed to you that it's on the list, and will be here with the vehicles.

Respectfully, I'm not trying to talk my way out of this. It's one of those areas where I have been involved and know that the spare parts list will be complete when the items are shipped

Jeffrey, i did tell you that remaining spare parts would be ordered today so they could be shipped with the vehicles.

Boscoe is working on the final list of parts needed.

It's 2+ weeks ago that a list for the first parts were made. That list included manuals.

We have since added other parts to the order, that is the one that Boscoe is finalizing today.
