My gut is that there is a chance that it could have a positive impact but it's not super-high probability - it depends on the effort. If you can reduce the effort, it probably won't hurt. You probably have good advisors on this, but one person I go to these days is one of my best friends Michelle Kydd Lee. She's the founder and head of the CAA Foundation and sort of the "mother" of Hollywood. She's the one everyone goes to when famous people under the protection of CAA go to when they get in trouble. I've talked to her about you and I'm sure she would probably have pretty good advice on this.
