The steampunk lifestyle is about going back in time to reimagine the future. Borrowing from steam-powered technology and Victorian-era style, the steampunk aesthetic is part industrial fantasy, with a non-conformist attitude that's all its own. Gears, brass, copper, dark colors like brown and black—these are all design components you might find in a steampunk home. Like what you see? Here's how to recast your own environment with a steampunk slant. We'll help you build it, but the rest is in your hands.
