Subject: Your mission, should you choose to accept it...

Dear Jeevacation,

It's time to start your Khan Academy mission! We don't have lessons on being a spy (yet), but our new math missions are a great training ground.

Choose your mission

Would you like to work on Algebra, or maybe Calculus? You'll master all the skills you need to learn while on your mission.

If you're starting summer break, you can nail down what you learned this year and then get a jump on the fall. Or use your summer to learn something totally new!

And don't think for a second that James Bond didn't know his Algebra cold.
