Hi Jeffrey,

Hope all is well with you. When am I going to see you?

I would like to introduce you to a rather impressive young man in NYC called Zachary Barnett who founded Abzyme a Research Foundation. He needs all the support he can get and given your own endeavours in medical research, I thought you might just be someone he should meet.

I should mention that I arranged for him to see our friend Alfred Taubman when he was in Palm Beach recently as I (mistakenly) thought he would be truly interested in what Zachary is doing. However I was wrong, despite Alfred's huge support through his remarkable philanthropic efforts in stem cell research and women's health at the University of Michigan, he was not in the least interested in the fight against HIV.

I know your main focus is brain research, so guess your reaction may well be the same. Notwithstanding, I feel I should at the very least bring this to your attention just in case I am wrong.

It would mean a lot to me if you could just give Zachary a few minutes of your time to tell you what he is trying to achieve.

As ever,

Mark
