Jeffrey,
Brunswick paint shop could start sanding the Boeing as early as tomorrow, if you approve to proceed with paint?

Stambaugh broke down the quote, and gave hard price for paint $110k and balance flight controls will be as needed, with not to exceed $35k, all flaps and flight controls are removed and balanced as necessary.
(I have color charts I'll bring to STT for your review if you want to paint),.

NO word from Ashley or his deposit,. I spoke to Larry Wright on Sunday afternoon, he said Ashley was busy with a boat charter deal and didn't have time to move money for a deposit, its always an excuse,.
-gutt tells me, if they are to proceed with purchase, it will be after we test fly the aircraft and its return to service.

Paint or Hold off?

thx
Larry
