Is that release going live today? Just keeping an eye out now so I can push on it.
Looks like we are doing a fair job so far at keeping the new issue from settling on the first page... however the rankings of the existing negatives (NYPost/Forbes) has gone up by about 1 spot each on average. Some consequence to be expected but the primary goal over past 2 weeks has been suppress the new story from sticking.

Nat Geo is still on hold despite a second conversation with them. I have a few other publications ready to take a premium post but I need to approve the concepts with them ahead of time.

I have a list of changes / audit suggestions for all of the properties we control for Jeffrey and the biggest concern is the duplicate content on each. [REDACTED] I would like you to help me with getting fresh content produced for these if you think that is reasonable.

Jeffrey - are we meeting this weekend via Skype? This meeting will help me get concepts nailed down now and get approval worked out over the next few placements.

Sincerely

Tyler

Hi Tyler,

I'm sending out a release tonight on Seth Lloyd's work (MIT) on Free Will-- he headed a study that Jeffrey funded.

I'll draft a longer version for feature publication-- will have it ready soon.

please update me on where you are at... Thank you!!
