Now Casting: Doron Ofir Casting presents a high-concept, innovative docu-series that follows the escapades of groups of friends on one night of the week. We want to showcase your world and what happens on your night together. From urban adventures, to fun indoor activities, to painting the town red.

You have a core group of close friends that mean the world to you, no matter what changes in who's life, some things never will, like your bond and your commitment to making one night a week the best night.

"Our Night" is a completely unique documentary series that will accompany you and your true friends into the heart of your night together to witness your experiences. We are looking for tightly knit cliques of girlfriends and gangs of guy friends who appear between the ages of 25 and 45 and live in California's Southland.

This is a never before attempted, expansive documentary series that focuses on the bonds of friendship, the connection of family and the joy of a life lived, one night a week.

Do you have the kind of bond that has been built on countless memories, endless laughs, and nights you'll never forget? We want to meet you!
